HINKLE

From Lyman Hinkle, Canton, OH

In 1530, Count Konrad Henkel was the Field Marshal of King Ludwig of Hungary.

Son Johann Henkel was Chaplain to the Queen upon recommendation of his friend Martin Luther.

From him descended the Rev. Anthony Jacob Henkel who was Court Preacher to Prince Moritz of Saxony, and in 1717, came to America, settling in Philadelphia, PA, where he at once organized a church and was the first to spread the Lutheran Doctrine in the German tongue in America.

From him descended the Hinkle family of America.

Anthony Jacob Henkel changed the spelling of his name because his wife's tombstone has Mary Elizabeth Hinkle. Picture of it Church Cemetery at Falckner's Swamp (New Hanover), PA. The tombstone of Anthony Jacob Henkel, Jr is in St. Michael's Churchyard, Germantown, PA

Descended from A.J. Henkel, Jr:
Anthony III to Wendel to two sons, Nathan and Phillip to James R., son of Nathan and Carld R., son of Phillip

HINKLE FAMILY

F416

of Richardson

In the early 1820's, the family of Randal and Charlotte Young Hinkle migrated to the Nats Creek area of Lawrence County from Jeffersonville, Tazewell County, Virginia. After serving in the War of 1812, Randal, later known as Randolph, married Charlotte, daughter of Absalom Young, 19 December 1816. Their children were George, John, William, Alfred, Wesley, James, Heriford, Lorenzo Dow, Vicie, and Charlotte. Randal died 20 January 1880 at the age of 90 and Charlotte Young Hinkle died 24 January 1883, at the age of 84.

John Hinkle, son of Randal and Charlotte, married Elizabeth Crum 6 November 1847. John served as a doctor in Johnson and Lawrence counties throughout the mid-1800's while Elizabeth was a midwife. To this union were born eleven children: Dow, Eli, Randolph, James, John, Panola, Mary, Tabitha, Vicie, Elizabeth, and Viola.

Panola Hinkle, 1853-1901, married Judge John S. Patton who became a prominent lawyer and judge in Martin County after its formation in 1870. Mary married William Fannin, Tabitha married L.B. Goble, Vicie married Crit Newberry, Elizabeth married George Ward, and Viola married Jehusan Spence.

The present day Hinkles of Martin County are descendants of Dr. John Hinkle and his brothers.

Randolph (R.D.) Hinkle, Sr., son of Dr. John and Elizabeth Hinkle, was born 27 November 1851 and died 25 December 1928. As a young man, R.D. worked with his brothers in the mines. He married Charlotte Winters Harris of Star Furnace, Carter County, 29 April 1874. Soon after their marriage they settled in Richardson where they established R.D. Hinkle & Son General Merchandise. This family owned establishment remains as one of the county's oldest businesses in continuous operation. For decades the Hinkle homes were opened to boarders, a practice which made duties for hospitality a way of life for all family members. R.D. and Charlotte Hinkle had nine children, all of whom reared their families in Lawrence County. Viola Hinkle, 1875-1930, married McClellan Branton Warnick of Richardson. Children: James Frank, Gowanda Mae, Janice Marjorie. James William Hinkle, 1877-1953, married Leona Erie Gunnell. J.W. was a merchant and attorney. He served as Lawrence County Attorney for several years. Children: Mary Hope and James Randolph. Tennessee (Tennie) Hinkle, 1879-1967, married Charles Beller of Grant County, Indiana. Ella Beatrice Hinkle, 1883-1967, married Gordon Cloyd Burgess of Georges Creek. Ella traveled Lawrence County as a home demonstration agent during World War II. Children: Elizabeth Jeanette. Randolph Hinkle, Jr., 1886-1944, married Ethel Marie Ward of Paintsville. R.D., Jr., a merchant and trader, assumed the family business in Richardson. Children: Helen Louise, Mary Charlotte, Frances Marie, Lefe Smith. Oscar Franklin Hinkle, 1889-1957, married Jane Allen of Floyd County. Oscar worked as a telegrapher for C&O Railroad. Children: Raymond Edison, Jack Allen, Junella, Joan. Panola Victoria Hinkle, 1891-1970, married Carl C. Cassell. Children: Robert Owen, David Randolph. Franklin Hinkle, born 1893, died in infancy. John Smith Hinkle, 1895-1959, married Loutie Irene Hale of Louisa. Children: Dorothy Elaine, William Thomas. John was a C&O telegrapher for over 40 years.

Members of this family and their descendants have traditionally served their communities as business leaders and educators.

HINKLE'S MOTEL

B7

The Hinkle's Motel was owned and operated by J.P. Hinkle, Abbie Miller Hinkle, and J.P. Hinkle Jr.

Abbie Hinkle had worked in her family's store business since she was twelve years old due to the death of her father.

She came from a large family and many members also ran the business. She had only four years of formal school but she got her education at home and applied this to her business.

Six months after marrying Mr. J.P. Hinkle, they opened Rice Street Grocery. They lived in the back and rented an apartment to her husband's aunt.

This business grew and flourished until they sold out to her brother J.R. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinkle opened the Hinkle Market on Lock Avenue and began another grocery business. They stayed at this location for seven years, selling at this time to another family member, Ralph and Thelma Miller Arrington.

At this time they opened Hinkle Motel, a 30 unit motel. After one year they added a restaurant to this business and it remained as such for 23 years. Most of the time they were booked solid.

In looking back, Mrs. Hinkle is amazed she has been able to accomplish all she has.

Errata

This article has been attempted on several occasions and by reason of a personal feeling of inadequacy has as often been laid aside. The searchers of this remarkable Henckel (Henkle, Henkel or Hinkle) family have been legion. To those who are living we wish to humbly acknowledge our debt. To those who have preceded us into the beyond we bow our heads in reverence, feeling that to many they may seem legendary but to us they seem to be very real personages having lived fully as individuals and meeting all of life's responsibilities in the development of this great nation.

Many apparent errors have been found in the written records of this family as recorded in the Federal census records: in the files of our county officers and in our local histories.

However, it is our chief desire in this article to deal with some of the apparent reasons for the different spellings of the family names. While it is common practice in this country to anglicize names of German origin many allied families in this record have retained their original spelling. Why not the Henckels?

The answer seems to be the descendants not only decided to change the original spelling of the name but also insisted on applying their adopted spelling to their immigrant ancestor and others of his descendants as well.

This accounts for the name Henkel on the marker and tablet at St. Michael's Church at Germantown. One only has to view the tablet at the New Hanover Lutheran Church to see a proper recording of the emigrants name.

The names of the twelve children of Reverend Anthony Jacob Henckel were properly recorded by him in Germany, yet we see Hinkle's Fort and John Justus Hinkel on the gravestone near Seneca Caverns in Pendleton County, West Virginia.

The compilers of this record in some instances may be in error for it has been a very difficult task to record the name correctly when brothers in the same family had adopted different spellings.

The name Henkle seems to predominate in the early official records of Pendleton County, West Virginia. By this we mean all deeds, wills, inventories, etc.

Some instances are herewith recorded: Abraham Henkle, born 1749 in Pennsylvania, taken by his parents to North Carolina, returned with them to Virginia in 1760. Probably a majority of his descendants spell the name Hinkle. Captain Isaac Henkle born 1754, Justice, and large property holder. The name Hinkle in local histories and has been so adopted by probably all of his descendants. Reverend Paul Henkle born 1754 after removal to Shenandoah County, Virginia seems to have used the spelling Henkel as did all of his line, in the above and adjoining counties. Moses Henkle born 1757, Justice, Official Surveyor for Pendleton County signed all official papers as Moses Henkle although he was noted in local histories as Moses Hinkle, Justice. Most of his descendants appear to use the name Henkle. Jacob Henkle, Sr., born 1788 in Virginia, moved west to Ohio, Iowa, and Oregon. All descendants appear to have used the name Henkle.

Of these spellings, Hinkle seems to predominate in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, North Carolina, Indiana and other mid-western states.

CHRONOLOGY

Evangelical Lutheran Church records of REVEREND ANTHONY JACOB HENCKEL in chronological order (Records of Dr. Burt Brown Barker):

1. Baptized December 27, 1668 at Merenberg (Mehrenberg), Germany.

2. Matriculated May 5, 1688 at Giessen University, Giessen, Germany.

3. Examined January 16, 1692 by the Theological Faculty of Giessen, Germany.

4. Ordained February 28, 1692 at Eschelbronn (Eschelbron), Germany.

5. Called February 28, 1692 as Pfarrer pastor of the Church at Eschelbronn, Germany by Baron John Anton of Pfeltz.

6. Called February 23, 1693 as Pfarrer of Church at Monchzell, Germany by Baron John Melchoir of Vestenburg.

7. Called in 1695 as Pfarrer of Daudenzell and Breitenbronn, Germany by Baron Von Gemmingen.

8. Recalled in 1714 to the Church at Monchzell by Baron John Melchoir of Vestenburg.

9. Called in October 1714 as Pfarrer of Neckergemund and Zuzenhausen, Germany.

He appeared to have served these churches until June 3, 1717 when he resigned and emigrated to the Province of Pennsylvania.

10. After his arrival at Philadelphia and settlement at New Hanover, now in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania he became pastor, in 1717, of the local Lutheran Church known as the "Old Swamp Church." Not only did he reorganize this church at Hanover but extended his work to the other districts in the area embraced in the original holdings of the Frankfort Land Company. "A gift to the Swamp Lutheran Church by Dr. Robert B. Ludy of Atlantic City, presented Sunday, May 18, 1930 a bronze tablet containing the names of the pastors and their time of service from 1700-1930. The 4th pastor was Anthony Jacob Henckel 1717-1728."

11. He preached occasionally at the "Old Trappe Church" near Valley Forge, to the Tulpenhocken and Goshenhoppen Creek Congregations where he advised and aided in the organization of churches.

12. He founded in 1721 what is now St. Michael's Lutheran Church at Germantown (now included in Philadelphia), Pennsylvania. This magnificent edifice has been repaired and rebuilt and is presently located at Germantown Avenue and Philaenna Street. It is not far distant to Chestnut Hill where Reverend Anthony was killed by a fall from a horse. In the adjoining church cemetery he, his wife and son Anthony (2nd) lie buried.

reflect great credit on this serious and noble ancestor indicated by their almost universal preservation of family records. They represent a cross section of the cultural life of America for at least nine generations.

Most of his adult life, as well as his youth, was spent in Germany. His letters that had been preserved indicate an intelligent well-educated minister for his period. Many or all of these original German records including those of Giessen University from which he graduated on January 16, 1692 have been destroyed by the armed forces of the allied armies in the late World War II. Many descendants of this Henckel family (Henckels, Hinkles, Henckes) served in these forces in behalf of their government and not a few made the supreme sacrifice.

ORIGIN OF NAME

The surname Henckel or Henkel is certainly of Teutonic origin and has been found in the earliest historical records of Germany, Austria, and Hungary. It certainly dates back to the period when families became so numerous that given names would no longer suffice to distinguish even the most prominent members of a tribe, hence the surname came into vogue.

The name Henckel, and its derivatives has designated one of the most prominent families in the records of the Teutonic nations since the beginning of the 16th century. The records of the early "Coats of Arms" indicate the name was in existence and of great prominence, as far back at least of 1096.

It has been claimed, according to family legend, that the name Henckel or Henkel originally signified handle as applied to tools, luggage, or any mechanical contraption that may be controlled by a handle.

The family surname Hinkel or, as is most commonly in use, Hinkle is said in the German language to mean chicken. Some of the older members of the family recall their parents or grandparents on the farm using the words Hinkel, Hinkel, etc., in calling the chickens at certain times.

In the "Pennsylvania Dutchman," a newspaper devoted to Pennsylvania Dutch Folk Culture, published, October 1, 1951, at Lancaster, Pennsylvania an old song was included under the title "M. Schted'l Mon sei Wunsch (City Man's Wish)" the theme being "I wish I was a farmer and had a farm."

The 4th verse:

"Die Hinkel halt ich in der Kuch,
Der Sei-stall vor der Dar,
Grick Rock and Husse von Kadoo,
Un Kollers von Babier.
'N Brinsel branner mooly Bull
Muss in der Scheier Hof:
Alpaca Hinkel, bordsart Hund,
Un Kochin-schanghai Schaf."

In a letter of Professor William J. Hinke of the Lutheran Theological Seminary of Auburn, New York to the Henckel family historian the following was included: "You must not think that the name Henckel, or Henkel, even Hinkel or Hinkel, is at all rare in Germany. It is rather quite common as it is a diminutive of Henk, which like the English Hank, comes from Henry. My own name Hinke which three generations ago was Henke comes from the same source."

In one of the best books on German Family names, "Heintze-Cascorbi, Die deutschen Familien names," Halle 1925, p. 197, he gives the various forms of Hankel, Henkel, Hinkel, as abbreviations and diminutives of Heinrich. To this same group belong the names Heinke, Henke, Hennike and Hennig. Naturally, names derived from Heinrich (Henry) were very common."

In a "History of Hesse, Prussia Volume VII, page 366, we also find the surname Henckel, Hinkel originated about 1362 from the given names Heinrich, Heinz, and Henne."

HENCKEL GENEALOGY

1st Generation

Reverend Anthony Jacob Henckel, notable emigrant of 1717 to America, was born at Mehrenberg, Germany in 1668; baptized December 27, 1668 in the Evangelical Lutheran Church at Mehrenberg; died August 12, 1728 near Germantown, Pennsylvania; married April 25, 1692 at Kirchain, Germany to Maria Elizabeth Dentzer, daughter of Reverend Nicolaus Dentzer, Lutheran pastor at Birkenau, Germany who was son of Simon Dentzer of Marburg, Germany and a brother of Othmar Dentzer, maternal grandfather of Reverend Anthony Jacob Henckel. She was baptized May 26, 1672 at Birkenau, Germany; died January 23, 1744 at Germantown, Pennsylvania. They were parents of twelve (12) children. Both are buried in the same grave in the churchyard of St. Michael's Church that he founded in 1721.

Note: This double grave was relocated about 1910 by a Reverend Ammon Stapleton, D.D., Henckel family historian and Reverend Dr. Zeigenfuss then pastor of St. Michael's Church. The headstone was in bad condition but was definitely identified.

On June 7, 1910, under the direction of the executive officers of the Henckel Association, the grave, in a remote location, was opened and the remains were reinterred near the main walk and directly in front of the church.

A committee was appointed to solicit the members of the association for funds to defray the cost of a new headstone and also a memorial tablet to be placed in the chancel of the church.

This was accomplished and a representative membership of the Henckel Association met on October 28, 1917 at the church in dedication of both the headstone and tablet. The white marble headstone bore the inscription:
